Governor Geary's Resignation Peremptory—Colonel Black—Policy of the Administration Concerning Kansas—New-York Appointments—The Dallas-Clarendon Treaty Approved by the Cabinet, &c.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Daily Times.

WASHINGTON, Sunday, March 22, 1857.

A new Governor of KANSAS, as successor to Gov. GEARY, will, beyond a doubt, be appointed next week. When the resignation was received, and up to last Tuesday, it was the full determination of Mr. BUCHANAN to urge his retention of the responsible post he has filled so ably, and, if necessary, to grant him carte blanche for the future, in addition to recognizing and indorsing his past acts. Since, however, the St. Louis letter has been dig—sted and it has become apparent that Mr. GEARY's desire to be relieved is peremptory, a new line of policy has become indispensable. Gov. GEARY is in Washington, and is to see the President and Secretary of State to-morrow.

The impression prevails, even among his warmest friends, that he has committed a great mistake in appealing to the people, as he has done, adversely, by implication, to the central Government, without first knowing what course would be now taken by the latter upon those points which were left undecided by President PIERCE. It has been, in fact, an abandonment of the post of danger in the hour of the greatest need, and was, to say the least, ill-timed. The American people will scarcely recognize it as a sufficient motive for a fugitive resignation, that the life of the Governor was in danger; nor that he had expended a certain amount of money from his own pocket; nor that he was displeased at a want of promptness in acquiescing to his reasonable wishes. I have no hesitation in declaring, and I do so upon the most solid authority, and without danger of contradiction, that, if Gov. GEARY had remained in Kansas, he would have been backed to the bitter end by the whole force of the Federal Government.

Colonel BLACK, of Pittsburg, Penn., lately geared up the claims of candidates for Governor of that State before the Democratic Convention, and in command of the First Keystone Regiment, during the Mexican war, is the most conspicuous Northern candidate for the Governorship of Kansas. Colonel BLACK has been a prominent Democrat in his own State for many years, and possesses the personal respect and confidence of the President. He is a lawyer by profession, and was a member of the National Convention at Baltimore which nominated General PIERCE, and also of the Cincinnati Convention. In the latter assemblage, he made the famous speech which elicited unanimous cheers from the entire Northern people. His appointment would be acceptable to the South, although I know of none of his antecedents which would render him unpopular in the non-slaveholding states.

Messrs. MCMULLEN of Va., and STANTON of Tenn., are more spoken of for GEARY's successor from the South, but I incline to think that BLACK's chances are the best, although nothing has yet been decided.

Southern feeling in Kansas is acknowledged to be, just now, decidedly predominant, and the anxieties of the Administration in relation to the future are extreme. In the midst of so much darkness, all that I can foresee confidently is, that the President will, under no circumstances, permit the spirit of the Kansas-Nebraska law to be invaded, and that if the people of that Territory are unequivocally visited with slavery as an institution, it will be by their own deliberate act, in accordance with the rights they possess under the Constitution and the law.

The Collectorship battle is nearly where it was. SOMMI has four members of Congress for him, and seven out of the twelve who compose the Congressional delegation must be regarded as for BUTTERWORTH. KELLY retired to be elected for either candidate, but he opposes BUTTERWORTH. AUGUSTUS J. PARKER, ROYAL PHELPS and others, are named for Collectorship only in case a third candidate is brought forward, and the chances of these gentlemen are not to be despised, as it is now known that WOOD is adverse to the claims of BUTTERWORTH. On the other hand, HOWARD, DAVIDSON and HAVEN, together with whom may be classed MESSRS. DEAN RICHMOND, CASSIDY, LUDLOW, and the Democratic strength from the interior, do not, on the whole, think that SOMMI could unite the party,—are said to be afraid of the risks of bringing in new candidates so late in the day; and, therefore, incline towards BUTTERWORTH, who is a fair, honorable and high-minded man, upon whose impartiality they can always rely.

All the talk about other candidates amounts, as yet, to nothing. No probable surprise can even be formed, at present, respecting who will get the Surveyorship or Naval Office. FOWLER, as the only candidate, looks certain for the Post-Office, but is not without opposition on the part of those who assert, vigorously, the principle of rotation in office. It must be owned that every one keeps his temper admirably. Among outsiders, our worthy Corporation Counsel, BOSWORTH, Judge RUSSELL, County Clerk CONSELYEA, and a score of others, chew good-natured faces to the crowd, and contribute generally, by their presence, to peace and the general good.

M. N.

P. S.—Mr. BUCHANAN informed the New-York delegation, yesterday, that he had received Governor GEARY's resignation, to take effect on the 20th inst., (Friday.) He added that the new Governor of KANSAS, by pursuing a wise, impartial and firm course, will have an opportunity of distinguishing himself beyond that of any other appointee of his administration. His policy is, as said above, non-interference free-soil. There has, as yet, been no census taken of the Kansas population, and Congress will scrutinize closely all acts, and the President will overlook these acts, in view of his veto power, before the September State Constitution—if one is framed—shall be acceded to or tolerated.

CRABB, of the Eighth District, is for SOMMI, from political associations, but is more favorable to BUTTERWORTH personally, and believes him to be the better man for Collector. This makes the delegation stand eight for Butterworth, one neutral, and three for Sebell. BUTTERWORTH has also a majority of the Hards of the delegation and a majority of the Softs of the delegation for him, which, it is thought, is the proper way of looking at the present Democratic union.

[FROM THE ALBANY TELEGRAPH AND REPORTER.]

WASHINGTON, SATURDAY, March 21.

The Cabinet to-day had under consideration the Dallas-Clarendon Treaty, and approved it in the form amended by the Senate. It will be conveyed to our Minister at the Court of St. Petersburg by ALEXANDER H. EVANS, of Washington, who, as special messenger, will leave Boston for Europe on Wednesday next, and return to this country after visiting London and Paris.

The resignation of Gov. GEARY was not received here until to-day. The intimation, however, of his determination to resign was sent hither some days ago, by telegraph. His resignation has not yet been acted upon, though it will be accepted. No successor has been designated as yet.

Messrs. SICKLES, BOCOCK, and many others from New-York, had a long interview with the President this morning, relative to the appointments in that City and State. The door was then thrown open to more than three hundred persons in waiting, including 4 from Maryland delegation. A large number rushed up and hurriedly put their papers into the President's possession, while others contented themselves with merely shaking his hand. The President excused himself, saying that he would listen to them all separately were it in his power, but the Cabinet would meet in a few moments, and they would, he said, have before them one of the most important subjects ever brought to the attention of the Government; and in this connection he said "He had just received the resignation of Governor GEARY, to take place on the 20th inst., and that time is passed. Hence," he remarked, "you see it is impossible for me, gentlemen, to attend to you now."

The following among other officers are assigned to the steamer Niagara, and have been ordered to report to the Navy Department by the 1st of April: Captain HUDSON; Lieutenants NORRIS, TOMB, GUEST, WELLS, MCCLANAHAN, WHITING and KENNEDY. Surgeon PALMER, and Assistant-Surgeon LUPKIN and WASHINGTON; Purser EDWARDS, and Chief Engineer EVERETT.

Colonel WHEELER, who has held the commission of Minister to Nicaragua ever since the cessation of diplomatic intercourse, has recently resigned it.

Hon. JOHN A. MCCLERNAND, of Illinois, has been recommended by prominent politicians of that State for the mission to Russia.

Failure of the Bank of Newcastle—Absconding of the Cashier.

PITTSBURG, Saturday, March 21.

The Bank of Newcastle, the credit of which has been impaired for some weeks, has finally stopped payment. The amount of coin in the bank yesterday to redeem notes amounting to $100,000, was just four dollars.

The cashier, Mr. WAGGONELLER, it is said, has absconded with $50,000.

The Directors of the bank are all men of responsibility, and have been most sadly duped by the cashier, who was a fast liver and deeply engaged in Eastern speculations. Large sums belonging to the bank were recklessly loaned to corporations, most of which will be lost, among others $30,000 to the Grammercy Bank, of Indiana.

Sentences of the State New-York Sentenceds.

TRENTON, N. J., Saturday, March 21.

The Jury in the United States Court came in this morning with a verdict of guilty against four of the crew of the ship New-York. JOHN DAVLIN was sentenced to three years imprisonment in the State Prison, and ROGERS, THOMPSON and BLAKE to two years each.

The State Legislature adjourned sine die at 11 o'clock this morning.

Governor Geary's Resignation at Honesdale.

HONESDALE, Penn., Saturday, March 21.

The confirmation of Governor GEARY's resignation is received, with the appointment of a Southern Pro-Slavery man in his place. The Democracy have placed their flag, with the Southern device attached, at half-mast.

The Baltimore Appointments, &c.

BALTIMORE, Sunday, March 22.

The Boy who was Shot at a Logger Star Station.

BOSTON, March 21.

To the Editor of the New-York Daily Times:

GEORGE JOHNSON, who was shot on the evening of the 20th ult., at a logger star station, No. 682 Broadway, was represented as a rowdy butcher boy. This has given the impression that he was nothing disreputable, and that the man who shot him, threw away justice in the act. Nothing could be further from the truth. The writer has known this boy for at least six or seven years, and from early childhood has for myself, and always found him of an excellent disposition, quiet, respectful, industrious, and faithful. He loved his mother and sisters, and was greatly beloved by them. During the few minutes (about 20) that he survived, they were uppermost in his mind. "What will my poor widowed mother and sisters do, for I am their only dependence?" he exclaimed, dying with their name upon his lips. Every pittance of his earnings was faithfully devoted to their use, and when not engaged at work, he was never long absent from their home. These in whose service he has been engaged for three or four years past, besides the writer, including his employer at the time of his death, bear uniform testimony to the excellence of his character. The circumstances under which he was murdered were not calculated to excite the keeper of the place to even an unmerited word. The place was one of public resort, with the added attraction of music. From curiosity more than anything else, he had gone there a few times, but never to remain long. On the evening in question he was accompanied by a single person, a lad, from his own age. It was about 7½ o'clock, and no more being the only persons in the place. The door was locked, when GROSSE attempted to open it by taking hold of the knob, and the entire sum of his offence was, that, after the keeper had slightly opened the door and said he could not enter, without any violence, he took hold of the knob again, saying to the man within that he wanted to speak to him. His emotion startled the keeper, who, in the act of closing the door, struck at GROSSE, who, in the act, was fired through the door,—the ball entering a small the ball entered at the lock, and lodged just under

Failure of the New-Jersey Commissioners to agree upon Boundaries for Common Schools—Democratic Success in School Meetings—Twenty Counties Heard from—Correspondence of the New-York Daily Times.

ALBANY, Saturday, March 21, 1857.

The Commissioners appointed by Governor KING to open negotiations with your neighbors of the "Jerseys" for jurisdiction over Sandy Hook, have returned to Albany with a large stock on hand. The State of Camden and Amboy must be in a terrible hollow, not excited out of their propriety and wits, which stretches across the mouth of Raritan Bay.

The fact is, the Locofoco trash here is disgusted by the opponents of removal, and will be filled to repletion, next year, with the "Improvement." When the Commissioners are arrested at Trenton, they should take the first train for Albany, and have

We cannot better serve our readers, particularly the mercantile portion thereof, than by calling their attention to the great sale of China, Glass, and Earthen Plated ware, &c., &c., now in progress at the establishment of Messrs. DAILEY & CO., Broadway. These gentlemen carry on the most extensive dealings in the above-mentioned goods in this country, and their room has been noted for years on account of the completeness of its appointments, and the variety and excellence of its wares. For reasons best known to themselves, Messrs. DAILEY & Co. are now offering their entire stock at and below cost. We bought a bill of them last week, and we confess that for the same kind of goods we have generally paid thirty per cent. more.

The Sheepshead Bay Case—Stay of Proceedings Granted—A New Trial to Take Place—The Prisoner not to be Removed to the State Prison.

KINGS COUNTY OYER AND TERMINER.

Before Judge Strong, Judge Morris and Justice Emmons and Schoonmaker.

On Saturday, at the opening of the Court, John G. Schumaker, Esq., District-Attorney, moved for sentence upon Joseph Jackson, recently convicted of rape upon the person of Catharine Sullivan. Henry L. Clinton, Esq., counsel for Jackson, stated in opposition to the motion that he had prepared a Bill of Exceptions, and asked the Court to stay the proceedings until he could move for a new trial at the General Term of the Supreme Court of that District, to be held at Poughkeepsie early in April. Mr. Clinton stated that in case of an adverse decision by the Supreme Court, he intended to take the case to the Court of Appeals. Mr. Clinton contended that the exception taken by him to the ruling of the Court upon the trial embraced a point of law of sufficient importance to render a stay of proceedings proper. Mr. C. stated that he did not intend to argue the point fully at the present time. He, however, called the attention of the Court to the case of the People vs. Abbott, 19 Wend. R., which he claimed was adverse to the ruling of the Court upon the trial in this case. After further argument from the District-Attorney the Court decided that the point raised by Mr. Clinton was one of sufficient importance to justify the granting of a stay of proceedings. Judge STRONG stated, that if the Supreme Court, after hearing the arguments of counsel, should come to the conclusion that the verdict against the prisoner should be set aside, it would be wrong to send him to the State Prison in the meantime. He directed the Clerk to enter an order staying proceedings until the next term of the Oyer and Terminer. Judge S. stated that if the case was not decided by that time counsel for the defence could then move for a further stay. The following is a copy of the Bill of Exceptions:

KINGS COUNTY COURT OF OYER AND TERMINER.

Joseph Jackson indicted with John Dixon ads. The People.—Bills of Exceptions.—On the 18th day of September, in the year of our Lord 1856, the defendants were indicted in this Court in the words and figures following, to wit:

Kings County, ss.—The Jurors of the People of the State of New-York, in and for the body of the County of Kings, upon their oath:

Present, that Joseph Jackson and John Dixon, now late of the City of Brooklyn, in the County of Kings aforesaid, on 23d day of August, in the year of our Lord 1856, at the town of Gravesend and in the County of Kings, aforesaid, in and upon the body of Catherine Sullivan, a woman of the age of ten years and upward, in the peace of God, and of the said people, then and there being with force and arms, did feloniously make an assault, and her, the said Catherine Sullivan, did then and there wickedly and feloniously and against her will, forcibly ravish, and carnally and unlawfully know, against the form of the statute in such case made and provided, and against the peace of the people of the State of New-York, and their dignity. R. C. UNDERHILL, District Attorney.

[Endorsed.] "Filed 18th day of September, 1856. Pleads 'Not guilty.' The People vs. Joseph Jackson and John Dixon. Indictment for rape.

R. C. UNDERHILL, District Attorney.

A true bill.

JOHN A. GROSS, Foreman."

The said issue so joined came on to be tried on the 9th day of March, 1857, at the Kings County Oyer and Terminer, held before Hon. S. B. Strong, a Justice of the Supreme Court, and Hon. Samuel D. Morris, County Judge; John A. Emmons and Martin Schoonmaker, Justices for Sessions, and a jury duly impanneled to try said issue. On the trial of the cause it appeared that Catherine Sullivan, the prosecutrix, embarked from Liverpool on board the ship City of Brooklyn for New-York on the — day of July, 1856, that she arrived in New-York on or about the 20th day of August, 1856. The said Catherine Sullivan was sworn and testified as a witness on behalf of the people.

On her cross-examination, among other things, she was asked by the counsel for the defendant whether during her passage from Liverpool to New-York above-stated, she had sexual intercourse with one Dr. Mason, a passenger on said ship, during said voyage. She denied in the most positive and unqualified terms that she ever had sexual intercourse with said Dr. Mason. During the progress of the trial the counsel for the defendant offered to prove particular acts of illicit sexual intercourse between the said prosecutrix and the said Doctor Mason during the aforesaid voyage from Liverpool to New-York.

The District-Attorney objected to any proof of particular acts of illicit intercourse between the prosecutrix and other persons, or any other person than the defendant.

The Court decided that the defence might prove the general bad character of the prosecutrix for chastity, but that evidence of particular acts of illicit intercourse between the prosecutrix and any other individual (except the defendant) could not be given in evidence. The Court accordingly refused to allow the evidence to be given. To which said decision the counsel for the defendant then and there duly excepted.

Considerable testimony was given on the part of the prosecution and defence, after which the respective counsel summed up to the Jury. The Court charged the Jury, who then retired, and after an absence of several hours returned into Court and rendered a verdict of Guilty.

And inasmuch as the said several matters so produced and given in evidence, and the said several matters so insisted upon, and objected and excepted to by the counsel for the said defendant, do not appear by the record of the verdict aforesaid, the counsel for the said defendant did then and there prepare their aforesaid exceptions, and proposed the same to the said Judges, and requested them to put their seals thereto.

And the said Judges did thereupon, at the request of the said counsel for the said defendant, according to the form the statute in such case made and provided, put their seals to this bill of exceptions, as of the day on which the said verdict was rendered as aforesaid, to wit: on the 17th day of March, in the year of our Lord 1857.

MONDAY, March 23—A. M.

The Foreign Trade at the port of New-York the past week, shows the total entries of Foreign Merchandize, including the Dry Goods statement in our last paper, $6,858,557, against $3,488,047 the week ending March 22 last year. The clearances of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods amounted to $1,880,357 against $1,458,058 the corresponding week last year. The Export of Specie to Foreign States amounted to $415,058, against $856,281 the same week last year. The California steamer of the 20th February, delivered in Bullion on Monday last $1,004,000. The Sub-Treasury balance on Saturday afternoon amounted to $15,577,462, against $15,582,612. Altogether the Specie movements of the week have been in favor of the Bank reserve, the averaged statement of which for the last week, to be made up officially this afternoon, is expected to show some increase on the previous average of $11,977,722; though it will be borne in mind that the California receipts come in on a declining average. The export demand for Bullion is lighter than at this time last season, and the renewed confidence in Cotton, which was strongly manifested on Saturday here, and also through the latter part of the week at the South, will probably tend to postpone a renewal of any considerable shipments for some weeks to come. Meanwhile another California packet (of 5th March) is now in her nineteenth day out from San Francisco. The country Bank balances are accumulating at this point, as the statement this afternoon will probably show, and upon these the general Discount line will be kept well up. The offerings last week were not so far in excess of the incoming payments as they had been for the previous four or five weeks, and the supply of strictly prime paper outside has fallen off. The rates are 6@8 ₹ cent. Good Bills of indorsed jobbers' paper go at 9@10 ₹ cent. Fair single names 10@12 ₹ cent. Exchange was in ample supply at the rates of the previous week, for the Canada steamer, 109@109¼ ₹ cent. on London, and the business done for this market was large enough to create a sensible increase of Money on the Street, subject to demand loan at 7 ₹ cent. From wire [illegible] 5 3/16@5 21/32; demand Notes of Europe bills very dear as a consequence from the previous terms. The Treasury Department under the new Administration is getting under headway in making the late appropriations, and the drafts against the heavy balances in the Sub-Treasury are partially on the increase. Upon the general review the look of Money affairs is favorable, and in so far as they are supposed to depend on the Foreign advices, the quotations by the Ape to the 4th of March, are satisfactory. On the Continent, Money is rapidly coming up; the French Funds particularly buoyant. In London the discount rates keep up to 3½@3 ₹ cent., and 3¾ on the Stock Exchange. Consols were ¼@¾ ₹ cent. up for the April account, previous to the defeat of the Ministry in the House of Commons, on the Chinese difficulty, which occurred on the morning of the 4th. But should this rather unexpected event lead to the resignation of Lord PALMERSTON'S Government, and a dissolution of Parliament, the expectation is that the Funds will temporarily suffer, without, however, affecting the price of Money or the general trade of the Kingdom. The Africa, with accounts to Saturday, March 7, is overdue at this port, and it is not unlikely that before this paper goes to press the news will be in.

According to the Custom-House returns, which we published early in the month in tabular form by months, the entries of Foreign Goods (exclusive of Specie) for the eight months of the treasury year from July 1, 1856, to the 29th February, 1857, inclusive, amounted to.....$140,962,000

A further fall in New-York and Erie, which early in the week went as low as 52 ₹ cent., and an active speculation against Illinois Central, on the announcement that the yearly meeting of the stockholders at Chicago had recommended the enlargement of the share list, instead of further assessing the original list of 170,000 shares, influenced adversely the general Stock Market, and although the supply of Money on the Street eased up after Wednesday, and a steadier feeling obtained in Erie and New-York Central, the closing temper of the market was unsettled. The decline in Illinois Central on the sales of three days after the speculation against it opened, was 10 ₹ cent. The contract and cash operations of Thursday, Friday and Saturday, registered at the Board, were 8,500 shares, while the actual transfers on sales made by bona fide holders are said to be short of 850 shares. The Board of Directors here have not yet acted definitely on the recommendation of the yearly meeting at Chicago, and if the disposition evinced on the Stock Exchange to act upon the measure as a hurtful one could be construed as the general sentiment of their constituents actually holding the original Stock, it is possible the new arrangement might still be postponed for further and freer discussion and instruction.

The foregoing we derive from the office of the Company, and the figures may be relied on as correct. We publish the statement in justice to the Company, a perverted account of their operations in the year having found currency through every one of the Albany papers.

The New-Jersey House of Representatives by a vote of 45 to 10, on the report of their Bank Committee, passed a bill on Thursday last, to repeal the charter of the Commercial Bank of Perth Amboy. The adjournment of the Legislature on the evening of the next day caused the bill of repeal to fail in the Senate, for want of time. The concern exploded five or six years ago, but was revived last season as a Bank of Circulation, under circumstances of suspicion, which induced us to warn the public not to take its notes. We are now asked to give prominence to a notice from the President of the Bank that the repeal of the charter failed "by the conservatism" of the New-Jersey Senate, and that the business of the Bank continues "as heretofore," and that its circulation will be redeemed, "as heretofore," at the Union Bank in New-York, at par! We have no feeling on the subject, except to place all the facts before the public, which we cannot better do than by quoting from the Journal of Commerce in connection with the request referred to.

"In the year 1693, the Legislature of New-Jersey chartered a Company 'for carrying on the whale and seal fisheries from the port of Perth Amboy, and for bombing purposes.' Three years after, the clause compelling the Company to employ part of its capital in the fisheries was repealed, and in 1843 the charter, which had about expired, was extended for twenty years, reserving to the Legislature the right of repeal. This concern was known by the name of the "Commercial Bank of Perth Amboy." In 1851 it became insolvent and receivers were appointed. The bills were sold in this City at various rates of discount, but as far as we recollect, most of the small holders received from the brokers about 50 cents on the dollar. The receivers collected the assets, and ultimately paid off the billholders as far as the bills were presented, leaving about $30,000 of the bills outstanding, and only $190 in funds on hand. In 1856, five years after the failure, certain parties in this City purchased the old concern, and attempted to revamp it, and give its bills a fresh circulation. The moment this intention was announced, to wit, on the 21st of August last, we called public attention to it in an article of some length, the closing paragraph of which was as follows:

"So palpable is this fraud that we, a long time ago, received that any defaulting institution which tried the renewing process in this vicinity, should find it up-hill work to obtain fresh currency for its issues. The Commercial Bank of Perth Amboy was such a defaulter. Its shut down its gates, refused to pay specie for its notes, and the holders were obliged to sell them as they could. We learn now, from an undoubted source, that an effort is being made to resuscitate it, and reissue its notes. We call upon every one in favor of a sound currency, to frown upon the attempt. Let no one touch a note of the Commercial Bank of Perth Amboy for any purpose—no, not even with a pair of tongs!"

The New-York Times, also, sounded a note of warning, but some of our cotemporaries gave the concern a decided puff. The bills wouldn't go, nevertheless, and "one eminent lawyer," of this City, was paid to give a favorable opinion of the "validity and propriety" of the reconstruction. On the 7th of September we gave a further warning, stating that the attempt to galvanize a defunct institution, whose very name was a stench in the nostrils of the public, was a insult to the community. On the 13th of October we announced *that the Metropolitan Bank had re*fused to take the bills, and the American Exchange Bank, also, declined to receive them on deposit.

Yesterday, we gave an extract from the very lucid report of the Committee on Banks in the New-Jersey Legislature, in which they denounce the management of the Bank in very decided terms, and recommend a repeal of its charter, assuming that the bills will not be redeemed.
